

Mother's Day

1 message

Dr John WorldPeace <drjohnworldpeacejd@gmail.com>
To: pulitzer@pulitzer.org

Sun, May 8, 2022 at 2:52 AM

Distribution

Marjorie Moore Administrator Pulitzer Prizes and all the members of the Pulitzer Board

MOTHER'S DAY – MAY 8TH 2022

Another Mother's Day

mother gone 9 years now at 86 in 2013
a few months after dad 86 too

Bodies die

Souls are infinite immortal forever residing in new homes never born
never die
just leaving a string of worn-out bodies disintegrating universally everywhere

The death of anyone

requires a different way to communicate
a waste of time demanding the mother soul to re-enter this earth dreamscape
for a day

requires new ways of hearing a new way of listening
a different voice
speaking
from who knows where and who cares where

The place to visit again

a sleeping dream
where things are more real that they ever were.

Mothers and sons
daughters and mothers
hopscoching
in and out of lives
in the merged oneness
of time and space
the spiritual dreamscape

that allows communication now because there is no duality of time
or space
in the intangible
infinite foreverness

Seems so silly
to think anyone as gone away where there is no away to go to

No one dies
that is just a corporate religious term that generates money
for false preachers
promoting grief

All mothers
my mothers
they populate
the world human society everywhere

And as to the pain of motherhood it saturates Ukraine
and mothers left homeless
childless broken-hearted all alone this day
propagating Eastern Europe from Ukraine

So much wasted grief
about mothers gone
when there are so many solitary mothers
all around
in every town

Dr John WorldPeace JD
220508-0240